"Well, Sarge, I was thinking about calling the folks when I get off tonight"

If you were away in camp, you'd know how much that call means.

You can help the service men by not making any casual Long Distance calls between 7 and 10 at night.

That's when most of them call and there's a big rush on many circuits.

Do you want to know how to save the life of your appliances?

In this 32-page booklet are many "trouble shooting" suggestions and many, many home hints on how to keep your appliances working at peak performance, through care to avoid repair.

Your appliances will have to work as never before in '44. You will be doing more laundry at home. Gasoline rationing means you will have to buy food in larger quantities when you shop. You will be doing more cooking and all of your housework. Last year this company brought out the first edition of the booklet, "The Lady of the House and Her Mechanical Servants." We distributed many thousands of copies. But apparently this amount was not enough. Now we have printed a second edition. If you have not received a copy of this booklet or cannot find the one you got last year, come into any company office today and get your FREE copy.

Fletcher Files Papers

Race for the supervisorial post representing the Third Township, which includes Redwood City south to the Santa Clara County line and west to La Honda, became a three-way battle Monday with Evans A. Fletcher, Redwood City councilman and insurance man, filing nomination papers as a candidate for the position.

Dr. A. E. O'Neill, Redwood City dentist, and George J. Alvis, Redwood City security bond broker, already have filed for the post being vacated this year by Supervisor John W. Poole, who is now serving his 18th year.

State Sen. Harry L. Parkman today filed nomination papers on both Republican and Democratic tickets for re-election.

Meantime, Raymond J. Daba, San Mateo and Redwood City attorney, announced today that he does not plan to run for the state assembly post now held by Harrison W. Call, who is seeking re-election. Daba took out nomination papers last week.

Filing nomination papers for the County Democratic Central Committee today were Pat Frayne, newspaperman, Redwood City, Second Township; Rene Cazenave, newspaperman, San Carlos, Second Township; Mervyn Rathborne, secretary-treasurer, San Francisco CIO Council, San Carlos, Second Township; and Geoffrey A. Curral, newspaperman, Burlingame, Fifth Township.

Filing nomination papers for the County Republican Central Committee today were Capt. L. G. McAloney, Second Township; Larry K. Hatlett, San Mateo, Barrett & Hip coordinator, Second Township; Randolph W. Madison, advertising manager, San Mateo, Second Township; John D. Brynfield, Hillsborough, president of Levy Bros., Second Township; Willard T. Butts, Burlingame, Metal & Thermit Corp. foreman, Fifth Township; Francis A. Raymond, newspaperman, Burlingame, Fifth Township; J. E. McClellan, attorney, Burlingame, Fifth Township; E. H. Cosgriff, attorney, Burlingame, Fifth Township; A. E. Cargill, former publisher of Burlingame Advance, Fifth Township; James B. McKeon, Redwood City, Third Township; and Floyd D. Grainger, Redwood City mayor, Third Township.

Among those signing Fletcher's nomination papers were James Rolph III, Henry A. Beeger, former Redwood City mayor; James H. Johnson, butchers' union president and past president of the Redwood City Eagles; Henry Witte, Redwood City real estate agent; Mrs. Mary C. Kennedy of the Golden State Mushroom Co.; and Ronald H. Maddan, retired.

Fletcher, who is now in his 10th year as councilman, today said:

"I am running as an independent candidate for the Third Supervisorial Dist., and if elected will pledge myself to help maintain a harmonious, efficient and economical county government.

"It will be my intention to hold the tax spending at the present time, to lighten the burden on the taxpayers as much as possible.

"I think a good deal of consideration and time should be spent in postwar planning so that the returning soldiers, who are now engaged in winning the war for us, will receive full consideration and preference upon their return.

"I have had 10 years experience on the Redwood City Council, have a wide knowledge of city affairs and governmental problems of Third Township and entire county. For 16 years I have operated general insurance business. Through contact with thousands of citizens I have practical knowledge of the needs and desires of the citizens in regard to their county government.

"I am past president of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Redwood City Aerie 418, also a member of the Elks and the Loyal Order of Moose. I am also past president of the Redwood City Insurance Agents' Assn.

Earl Carter Association President

Rev. Earl D. Carter, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Monday was elected president of the Redwood City Ministerial Assn. Rev. Walter B. Smith, pastor of the First Baptist Church, was chosen vice president, and Ralph Benson, pastor of the North Fair Oaks Community Church, was named secretary-treasurer.

The association members discussed plans for a three-hour Good Friday service.

The association is now sponsoring two noon-time chapel services at the Methodist Church. The devotional meetings are open to anyone who wishes to attend. Services are held each week day from 12 noon to 12:15 p.m. and from 1 to 1:15 p.m. Rev. Charles E. Ward, pastor of the First Congregational Church, had charge of the services last week. Reverend Carter has charge this week and Reverend Smith will have charge next week.

Brier McNeill plays the organ for the first meeting and Doris Sylvester plays for the second session. Sunday night following church services a series of singingsessions was inaugurated at the Baptist Church with members of five Protestant churches present forming an interdenominational youth fellowship. Gordon Baker was chosen chairman and Thomasine Alexander was elected secretary. One hundred fifty persons were present Sunday night. Churches represented were Methodist, Baptist, Christian, Christian Assembly and North Fair Oaks Community.

Lindberg was treated at Mills Memorial Hospital in San Mateo for lacerations, fractured left knee cap and a possible brain concussion. Mrs. Lindberg was treated at the same hospital for lacerations about the body and a possible concussion.

New Semester At Sequoia

Registration at Sequoia High School for the 1944-45 school year began this week.

The program of studies has been revised to include several new electives. A course in structural aerodynamics will be added to supplement the first year course in preflight aerodynamics. The art department is introducing classes in weaving and ceramics. A new homemaking course will be started for sophomore, junior and senior women.

The pre-induction program advised by the government will be continued in its entirety.

Under the plan of registration, students will map out their course for the rest of their high school education, thus making it possible to co-ordinate studies.

Deputy Collector Itemizes Tax Information Needs

"Bring statistics essential in filling out your income tax blank, and have them tabulated in such a way that they will be easily available to the collector assisting you," was the plea this morning of James Shanley, deputy internal revenue collector who, with Miss Grace Lyddane, will be in Redwood City until 5 p.m. Tuesday, Mar. 14, to help harassed income taxpayers determine what they owe Uncle Sam.

This data, in convenient form, will immeasurably speed up the time consumed in filing, and will aid the taxpayers as well as the busy deputies, Shanley pointed out.

Redwood City taxpayers have been availing themselves of the opportunity of having expert assistance with their problems, and have been flocking into the supervisors' chambers at the court house, where two collectors are on duty from 9 to 5 every day.

Information which should be brought in on a work sheet includes the following:

Income in 1943—amount of wages and other income received.

Deductible expenses—expenses necessary to work or business. Deductions—taxes, interest, losses from fire, storm, theft and bad debts, contributions and extraordinary medical expenses. These should be itemized.

Tax on 1942 income—statement received from Collector of Internal Revenue giving 1942 tax and amount paid last March and June, withheld from wages.

Income tax and victory tax withheld in 1943—statement from employer of total wages and amount withheld from wages.

Sept. 15 and Dec. 15, 1943, tax payments—tax paid when and if declaration of estimated tax was made.

S.C. Group Picks Council Candidates

"The campaign is really rolling now," says Rene Cazenave, publicity chairman of the San Carlos Progressive Committee which presented their candidates for the city election, at a public meeting Monday night at the Recreation Center.

The candidates are Harvey P. Carlson, chief accountant, Glenn Falls Insurance Co., San Francisco, past president of the Insurance Accountants' Assn., and vice president of the San Carlos Athletic Club; Patrick J. Kearns, 728 Cedar St., San Francisco and Peninsula attorney, active in government and political circles, and former chairman of Draft Board 106, and Ed Dreyer, 550 El Camino Real, who has had his own business in San Carlos for the past 11 years, member of the fire department, president of the Lions Club and past president of the chamber of commerce, personnel man at the Joshua Hendy Iron Works, Sunnyvale.

These candidates were unanimously approved by the general membership, and the verification deputy will start out today for the names of sponsors, says Cazenave.

Their statement of policy presented last night by the campaign committee had as its keynote "to institute representative government in San Carlos." This committee says their candidates will see that an agenda of council meetings is published before hand and that in the operation of council meetings the public has a hand in discussion and decision.

Cazenave says the candidates will launch civic improvements through surveys leading to the betterment of fire and police protection, the reduction of fire insurance rates, they will see to more extensive use of the city's recreational facilities and the correction of the sewerage, lighting and paving problems, and efficient expenditure of the municipal income, and an intelligent solution of the water sale problem.

Cazenave emphasized that the new committee was independent of any other club, group, organization or any member or members of the present council. He also stated that those holding appointive city offices would be retained.

Sixty persons attended Monday night's meeting. Ruth Allen was appointed as head of the canvassing committee; Henry (Hank) Schalbach, the speaker's committee; and Rene Cazenave, publicity.

The next general meeting will take place next Monday night at 8 p.m. at the Recreation Center.

R.C. Studies Juvenile Problems

Commenting on a new state-wide delinquency program contemplated by the California War Council, Louis B. Dematteis pointed out today that the Redwood City plans, already under way, are aimed at dealing with juvenile problems before a delinquency measure becomes necessary.

First step in the state plan would be establishment of a juvenile detention center for transient boys and girls at San Diego, followed by others throughout California; if the idea worked out successfully, the San Diego center would care for out-of-state boys and girls, and would be financed by the state and the city.

"If we are going to lose boys and girls through these conditions (delinquency) it is just as bad as if we list them through enemy air raids," Governor Warren said in discussing the plan, at the same time expressing the opinion that the problem should be met by the federal government. Since federal money is not forthcoming, he said, state action is necessary.

"We have to do something," the governor continued. "We can't just sit by and let the fire burn."

Redwood City has a meeting scheduled for Mar. 23, at which representatives of various church, social and civic organizations will meet with a committee appointed at an initial meeting Feb. 10. It is expected that definite plans will evolve at that time for co-ordination of various organizations concerned with young people's problems.

OPA Starts Checkup Drive

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The OPA said Tuesday that it was starting a checkup drive at filling stations and that motorists who possess either undorsed or detached gasoline coupons will be cited to appear before their rationing boards.

Gasoline coupons must bear the holder's automobile license number and state.

George Moncharch, OPA district enforcement officer, said the checkup would be carried on throughout the 16 counties in the San Francisco district.

Regular checks of motorists will be made at all gas stations. Moving cars will not be stopped. "This is not a policing campaign," Moncharch said, "but one to stimulate education and understanding of the vital need for drivers to comply with the simple rules in gas coupons."

If a motorist refuses to show his coupon book to an investigator, that in itself constitutes a violation of rationing regulations, Moncharch declared.

In 1276 Roger Bacon published a book which gave the first description of how lenses can aid sight.

Archaeologists exploring tombs of Egypt found grains of wheat believed to date back 6000 years.

S.C. Hero Arrives In U.S.

SAN CARLOS—San Carlsans today are awaiting the arrival of the town's distinguished air hero, Maj. LeRoy Gover, who has arrived in the United States and is expected to return home soon.

A telegram received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gover of Cedar St., informed them of Major Gover's arrival. The telegram explained that he had been delayed because he was hospitalized for several weeks in England. He stated that after reporting to Washington, D. C., he would start for home.

Now a veteran of over 160 bombing missions, Major Gover joined the RAF Eagle Squadron in the Fall of 1941 and later transferred to the U. S. Army Air Corps.

The 29-year-old hero has received many citations and medals from both the British and American governments. He has the unusual distinction of being awarded twice the Distinguished Flying Cross and was singled out for broadcasting as one of the most decorated fliers in the American forces.

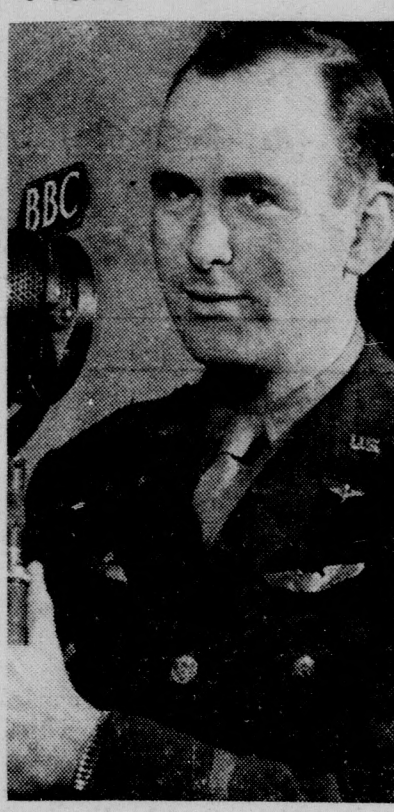

Major Gover holds a plaque presented to him by the Duchess of Kent, who presented the honor to members of the American Eagle Squadron after a mission with the RAF.

Gover's latest aerial exploits have been in the "Miss San Carlos," a P-47 which he has been flying as squadron leader in bombing missions over German targets. Born and raised in San Carlos, Major Gover is a graduate of Sequoia and San Mateo Junior College. His first flying was done on the Peninsula.

By 1944 there will be an estimated 46,500,000 persons in the United States under the federal old-age and survivors insurance program.

Sonora was given town government in 1848 in order to establish a hospital where miners suffering from scurvy could be treated with raw potatoes (at $1.50 a pound) and lime juice (at $5 a bottle).

Hero

San Carlos is now awaiting the return of their air hero, Maj. LeRoy Gover who wired his parents that he has arrived in New York.

Oregon University Professor Dies

Mrs. Stanley Fryer of San Carlos received word Monday of the death of her cousin, Dr. Eric Allen, who has been associated with the School of Journalism at the University of Oregon, Salem, for 32 years. He at one time was news editor of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, and has served on the summer session faculty at the University of California. He was 64. His wife, who died in April, was a novelist and poetess.

Dr. Allen's daughter, Mrs. Charles M. Gilbert, lives at Berkeley. Her husband is on the teaching staff at the University of California. One son, John Elliot Allen, is a geologist of the Oregon State Bureau of Mines; two others, Robert and Eric Jr., are in the service. A brother, Comdr. Hugh Allen, is in the U. S. Navy.

R.C. Seeks Hospital Expansion

SAN MATEO—New interest was added here to the problem of expansion of Mills Memorial Hospital when it was learned that citizens of Redwood City alarmed over the acute lack of hospital facilities have begun a study of the situation with a view toward finding a solution for the county seat's problem of caring for persons requiring hospitalization.

Although the new interest developed on the eve of a regular meeting of the San Mateo Junior College Board of Trustees, the question of whether the J. C. should sell 13 acres of adjacent playground to the hospital for such development, was not expected to be brought before them tonight. A plan previously announced as conceived by an interested committee which would be presented for trustee's consideration tonight today was still in the embryo stage and would not be discussed formally with the board until a later date.

Clyde Manwell, chairman of the four-man committee composed of Ira Potter (San Mateo Chamber of Commerce), Edward Cosgriff, and Horace Clarke (San Mateo-Burlingame Real Estate Board), declared that due to many complications further study is needed to develop a plan designed to solve not only the hospital problem but the J. C.'s problem as well.

A possibility of such a plan he said, is the raising of a bond issue by popular subscription.

Meanwhile Dr. Rollo LaBerge, Redwood City dentist, revealed today that the Redwood City Exchange Club, prominent city civic organization, has called a meeting on Mar. 14 to discuss the problem. Edward H. Cosgriff, Burlingame attorney, has been asked by the group to speak on the situation. Dr. LaBerge told the Tribune that Redwood City patients are about evenly divided between Palo Alto Hospital and Mills Memorial Hospital but that Redwood City has no modern hospital of its own making it necessary for the community to rely on the two hospitals nearby.

Redwood City is not a part of the San Mateo Junior College district and could not take part in the current negotiations now taking place here between civic groups and the J. C. trustees relative to the sale of the old J. C. campus.

Some leaders in Redwood City affairs have indicated that unless Mills is enlarged, the community seat will reach a crisis in hospital care and that some move must be made to secure a hospital for the community there.

Redwood City's population, swollen by war industries from 9000 in 1940 to more than 15,000, with an additional 30,000 people in the immediate trading area, has created an area of close to 50,000 people similar to the population of the Three Cities area.

Jack Anderson Presents Bill

Moving to end the confusion which has existed in the California dried fruit packing industry since the passage of social security legislation, Congressman Jack Anderson, this district's (eighth) representative in Washington, has introduced a bill in the Congress to include packing industry employees in the federal social security program. The bill is now before the House Ways and Means Committee for action.

Anderson declared that so much confusion has existed in the packing industry, and so many regulations have been issued by the Social Security Board and the Internal Revenue Bureau, that the industry was in a daze. The legislation, if adopted by the Congress, will become effective immediately, and will permit all packing employees to enjoy the benefits of social security, he pointed out.

Both the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations, Anderson declared, have asked the Congress to adopt the measure which he introduced. The congressman said he anticipated no opposition to the bill.

Friday morning, Mar. 17, St. Patrick's Day, Anderson will be heard on the air at 10:15 o'clock over Station KQW.

Lt. Helene Scheele Talks at Meeting

Lt. Helene Scheele urged Exchange Club members at their meeting Tuesday to give all the assistance they could in recruiting women for the WACS, thus releasing men for combat duty, which in turn would reduce the number of men required by the draft.

The lieutenant, who is here conducting a recruiting campaign, emphasized that business men, employers of women, are in a position to know their capabilities, and to hasten enlistments of women, even though it may mean loss of capable employees.

Kemal O'Zotol, a native of Turkey, is guest speaker at next week's Exchange Club meeting. Mr. O'Zotol, who is enrolled at Stanford University, will tell club members about modern Turkey, and the place she holds in the world today.

J. A. (Jake) Buhler is chairman of next week's meeting.

Students To Receive Work Awards

It's pretty hard to take a month out of summer vacation and spend it obeying such 6 a.m. orders as "hit the floor" or sliding into a bunk at 10 p.m. because "the sun gets up early."

But 120 Sequoia High School students did just that last summer and they were rewarded at an assembly Thursday when Max Leonard, county agriculture deputy presented them with VFW emblems and certificates from the U.S. Crop Corps.

Members of the summer harvest group, these students and their advisors under the leadership of Donald Bogie, vice principal, went to the Superior Fruit Ranch at Ceres last summer. The boys went for five weeks, the girls for a month.

They "hit the floor" in barracks prepared for them. The boys did the heavy work, the girls picked the fruit. It was then taken to Modesto to the S. & W. cannery where 18 of the girls were stationed to finish up the job by canning the peaches.

It was not a month of solid work though. The harvesters knocked off at 5:30 and, after showers and chow, there was an evening of recreation until 10 o'clock when everyone turned in in order to be up in time to beat that "early" sun.

An exhibit in a showcase at the high school shows how the work was done—and how much was accomplished. It includes a letter of commendation from the owners of the ranch praising the ability and willingness of the students as well as several examples of the finished product.

Raymond Daba Will Not Run

SAN MATEO—Raymond Daba, young San Mateo attorney, today announced that he would not be a candidate for state assemblyman. His decision not to run left Harrison W. Call of Redwood City, the incumbent, unopposed. With nomination papers filed by Call on Saturday, tomorrow at 5 p.m. is the deadline for other candidates to file.

Daba, who had taken out, but not filed nomination papers said he reached his decision "after careful consideration" because he felt he could not absent himself from his law practice to which he recently returned after receiving a medical discharge from the army. He maintains offices in San Mateo and Redwood City.

"I am grateful for the wide support which was offered me and regret that it does not seem feasible for me to run at this time," Daba declared. Before entering the army, the attorney served a brief term as judge of the San Mateo Municipal Court.

Square Dance Class Marked As Success

"Gents to the right and ladies to the left," "Swing your partner," and "do-si-do."

These and other phrases of a bygone era, to the accompaniment of old polka tunes, like "Turkey in the Straw" echoed through the Woman's Club Tuesday night as about fifty men and women began to master the basic steps of the square dance, under the guidance of Mrs. Mildred Buehler and several of her students.

The instruction is being given as part of the program of the Redwood City Recreation Dept., and classes will be held every Tuesday evening, from 8 to 10 o'clock.

There was a slight preponderance of women in last night's class. Several service men were there. They became enthused about the dance when Mrs. Buehler gave instruction in the steps at the USO Hospitality House recently.

incorporation of Menlo Park 16 years ago. She will not file for reelection.

Mrs. Francis Maloney is now city treasurer, the office for which no one has filed a petition.

Council Faces Housing Hazard

Plans of "attack" on two important city problems, proposed consolidation of the two city bus lines to permit transfers and the hazard of housing alterations and additions to make extra rooms and apartments, were outlined by the city council at its regular meeting Monday night.

While final action on either of the problems was lacking, necessary endorsements, stamps of approval were given in hopes of early action.

In driving the bus line consolidation toward a conclusive end, the council authorized City Atty. Paul McCarthy to appear in behalf of the city at a hearing to be held here Apr. 5 and followed this authorization with an endorsement of R. P. Martin's application for consolidation of the two franchises.

Martin, who owns franchises to both lines, previously pointed out that issuing transfers from one line to another was impossible legally, since the franchises were separate.

Present at last night's meeting, Martin thanked the council for the endorsement and expressed hope the consolidation would soon be approved so as to permit the issuance of transfers.

"We are now working on a transfer plan on a zone system," Martin stated.

"At a recent meeting of the health departments of San Francisco, San Mateo and Santa Clara Counties held at San Jose, it was agreed that something be done to control cutting of houses into one and two room apartments," City Attorney McCarthy stated in reporting on the second important problem brought before the council last night.

It had been proposed at the last council meeting that McCarthy draw up an ordinance prohibiting such alterations and additions, but the city attorney reported last night that he had not drawn up such an ordinance since the problem appears to be countywide and a meeting of all city attorneys of San Mateo County will be called in the near future at which time they will discuss with the district attorney the drawing up of such an ordinance.

Councilman C. A. Britschgi pointed out a provision in Ordinance 460 attacking this problem by demanding permits for such alterations or additions.

In acknowledging the provision, the city attorney pointed out that it was not adequate to cope with the present problem since it lacked the "teeth" of penalty for violation and that often the alterations were done "a little at a time" thus not necessitating a permit.

Upon the motion of Councilman Evans Fletcher, the matter was placed on the agenda for the second meeting in April.

Sparks of controversy continued to fly over the $250 donation by the city to the Boy Scouts for repair of the old Manual Arts Building which had been declared a "fire hazard" by Fire Chief Ryan.

In a letter to the council, signed by Elmer K. Ross, chairman, the Recreation Commission asked why this matter was not referred to them for consideration before the donation was made. Another letter was received from Lloyd E. Caldwell asking $377 for a YMCA "Boys Center."

Councilman W. W. Hilton pointed out that the donation to the Boy Scouts was not an appropriation for the furtherance of activities but rather to avert the "fire hazard" which comes under a city problem. Councilman Armstrong backed Hilton in his assertion.

Donald J. Bogie, who is also a member of the Recreation Commission, again appeared before the council in behalf of the requests by the Girl Scouts and the YMCA. Bogie's contention was that since a donation was given to the Boy Scouts, a like sum should go to other youth organizations.

A motion by Councilman Britschgi that the matter be referred to the recreation commission was passed.

The council once again hiked the pay for polling officials to $10 thus coming up to the pay set by a "nearby town" (Menlo Park). The second raise in as many meetings was made after Harry Harrison appealed to the council for such action in the face of the pay set by "a nearby town." The motion to make the pay $10 was made by Councilman Fletcher and passed by the council.

The council also passed a resolution fixing polling places and selected polling officials for the 10 precincts by drawing to eliminate in precincts where applications existing of houses into one and two room apartments. City Attorney McCarthy stated in reporting on the second important problem brought before the council last night.

A foundation for future council work was laid by Councilman Britschgi who proposed a change in the section in the city charter that gave complete control of the city in the case of a riot or an extreme emergency. Britschgi stated that under the city manager form of government, this power should be invested in the manager.

Mayor Granger then stated that there are many changes needed in the charter "and also in the civil service system" and suggested that all necessary changes be consolidated into one action.

Councilman Britschgi then made motion that a discussion of possible charter changes be placed on the agenda for the first meeting in May.

City Attorney McCarthy reported to the council that he had interpreted Ordinances 451 and 360 as providing satisfactory limitations to the building of chicken houses and raising chickens in the city.

The resignation of Louis B. Demattis from the Redwood City War Council was accepted by the council with expressions of regret. Demattis stated in his letter of resignation that he expects to join the armed forces in the near future.

Endorsing the "Your Red Cross at His Side" 1944 War Fund campaign, the city council last night voted $400 for the Redwood City area campaign.

The donation was made following a request by Mrs. William Baxter, chairman of the War Fund Drive.

A letter requesting a representative from Redwood City at a meeting of the California League of Cities' Community Planning Institute was referred to the city planning committee with the council's approval of expenses to send a member of this committee to the institute.

Without any further action the suggested industrial committee's report on locations for used car lots was placed on the agenda for the next meeting.

Action on proposed one hour parking on Commercial Way was again referred after City Manager Mead requested that the matter be referred to him for further study.

A letter from William H. Gibson, captain of the California State Guard, to Councilman Britschgi requesting study of possible use of a public building in which the guard might store equipment, was referred to the council.

Upon recommendation of the city planning commission, the council voted not to issue a new permit on the present structure of the Redwood Diner at 729 El Camino Real, owned by Mrs. Bettie Roscoe, 1500 Banohlet Ave. in Burlingame. The council ordered the owner to appear on June 30 to show cause.

A request by the Women of the Moose to stage dances at the Moose Hall on Mar. 10 and 17 was granted by the council.

The council adjourned in memory of Archer Kincaid, who served this city for many years as an attorney.

Navy Chaplain Gives Talk

"The call of a navy chaplain is a fourfold one—from the navy, the church, the parents and the men themselves," declared Chaplain E. R. Barnes, USN, in an address at St. Peter's Episcopal Church Sunday night.

Chaplain Barnes, the Protestant chaplain mentioned in "Guadalcanal Diary," landing on Guadalcanal with the first wave of marines and leaving the island with the last, enlisted in the navy before Pearl Harbor. He had lived in the Orient for many years, felt that there would be a war and wanted to "be on hand."

He described the job of the navy as the "biggest of its kind in history" and illustrated navy efficiency in describing how the ship on which he went to the Solomons was converted from a regular vessel to a landing craft while on the high seas.

"The call of the church is a non-sectarian one on the 84 American battlefronts today," the chaplain said. "Each chaplain represents the whole religious movement."

Illustrating the service chaplains render to the parents, Chaplain Barnes told of an incident where a mother had written him to get some information about her son. The son had found it impossible to write home but Chaplain Barnes found a quiet room, sent the marine in and helped him to get a letter written.

"The men themselves make the job of the chaplain," he revealed. "They turn to us for spiritual guidance and support and thereby create our job for us."

Registration Shows Drop

Registration in San Mateo County for the May 16 primary election dropped off 16,041 from the total registration for the last general election in 1942, it was revealed Tuesday.

The apathy of electors here reflected a state-wide trend. Registration throughout California was 1,104,599 behind the total for 1942. The current registration is the smallest in 14 years, Secretary of State Frank Jordan said in announcing the figures.

Registration here by parties also reflected the general California situation. With the Democrats leading throughout the state by a margin of about 1 1/2-1, registration in this county was 26,781 Democrats, to 23,267 Republicans.

Nevertheless, the Democrats appeared to be the chief losers locally from the failure of the voters to register. They have lost 9,959 registrants from their 1942 total of 36,740, while the Republicans lost

Supervisors Refer Sewerage Problems

Sewerage problems confronting Northern San Mateo County cities were referred to them Monday by the county board of supervisors.

Although the board heard a report from C. G. Gillespie, state sanitation officer, urging immediate co-operative action by the various cities to collect and treat sewage through a minimum number of outlets, Supervisor Thomas L. Hickey pointed out that the board did not consider it proper to attempt to force the joint sewer district proposal.

"The board should not act unless the areas involved are interested," advised Supervisor Alvin S. Hatch. The board ordered copies of Gillespie's report sent to South San Francisco, San Bruno, Colma and the Millbrae Sanitary District.

53381 registrants from their former total of 28,648.

Cuff Demands Understanding On Authority

Chief Thomas F. Cuff of the Menlo Park Fire Dist. Tuesday demanded of the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors that some understanding be reached as to who is in charge of fire protection and of fire prevention activities in the Menlo district.

Cuff's demand came to the board in a letter in which Cuff refuted allegations made by Werder that Rolly Somer's "Sand Bar" on El Camino Real in the Menlo Park Fire Dist. was a "veritable fire trap" and "second Coconut Grove."

Cuff declared that a special meeting of fire chiefs was called in Burlingame Feb. 23 to find out what right Werder had to make such a report in a district which has an organized department and that at this meeting Werder was severely criticized by the group.

Max E. Miller, senior deputy state fire marshal, was quoted in the letter as saying that "We do not feel this night club is a 'second Coconut Grove.' Miller also was quoted as refuting Werder's statement that he checked all the night clubs in the county that he could

In co-operation with a nationwide check-up on grocery, vegetable and meat prices, the Redwood City War Price and Ration Board will be closed on the afternoons of Mar. 14 and 16, it was announced by the office.

All available OPA personnel will join in the check-up, it was announced. The investigation will continue throughout the week of Mar. 13 with intensive surveys by all OPA assistants on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

The Redwood City OPA price panel, which met last night, sent notices of violation to one retail store, a creamery and a bar.

locate. He said that "not one of the 33 in the Menlo district could say any inspection had ever been made by Werder. Most of the owners never heard of him."

According to Supervisor Fred Beer, the "Sand Bar" was given a clean bill of health by state inspectors, who determined that bamboo matting, grass skirts and other items used in decoration had been flame-proofed. The proprietor agreed to install one more exit.

R.C. Helps 200 Servicemen

More than 200 cases have been handled this year by the reporting service of the local chapter of the American Red Cross, according to Mrs. W. A. Baxter, chairman of the drive being conducted here to meet the 1944 budget needs of the organization. This is but one of the activities of the organization which prompted the slogan for this year, "Your Red Cross at His Side."

The Red Cross conducts investigations for the army when further extensions have been requested. Through this agency, the army can establish the necessity for such extension by a quick check locally. Service men are not released to their homes for convalescent furloughs until the Red Cross has checked the conditions.

Military doctors have the help of the Red Cross in securing social histories of service men, which help in diagnosing difficult cases in hospitals, Mrs. Baxter declared.

Worried service men, long separated from their families, are enabled to hear from their families at home through the welfare reports which the organization secures and sends to field directors in any part of the world.

Butler Discloses Plans for Postwar Hotel Project

E. W. Butler, manager of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce, Tuesday disclosed plans for a quarter of a million dollar inn for postwar Redwood City. The project already has won tentative approval of the Tomerlin Bros., owners of the Bakersfield Inn, Butler announced.

The hotel project was born at a meeting of chamber of commerce secretaries in Bakersfield in February. Butler disclosed. The secretaries met at the Bakersfield Inn, operated by the Tomerlins, and Butler says he envisioned a similar establishment for Redwood City.

According to tentative plans, the combination inn and public gathering place would be circled with a U-shaped group of motor court units, enclosing a blue-tiled outdoor swimming pool, a terrace where food and drinks could be served, and a barbecue pit. The architecture would be California mission, modernized, with tile roofs predominating. Redwood trees, tropical landscaping, giant camellias and other flowering trees, gay umbrellas and awnings would add to the color of the scene envisioned by the chamber of commerce officer.

Butler sketched into his picture a combination banquet hall and ballroom, indoor and outdoor coffee shops, a Gardenia lounge, perhaps, a Chrysanthemum room, honoring one of Redwood City's leading industries, and a Sequoia ballroom. A giant redwood tree at the entrance would be an absolute "must," Butler said. Soft pastel murals would depict the history of Redwood City, from the days of the oxcarts hauling giant redwoods to the mill on down to the modern industrial picture the city now presents.

Butler conceived the idea of a Chamber of Commerce building when he first took over the managerial duties here, and it was included in the projected plans for the year at the annual meeting in January. It was the trip to Bakersfield, however, which crystallized the idea into a definite pattern and strengthened his belief that the dream could become a reality.

The meeting of the chamber of commerce representatives which Butler attended was held in the Bakersfield Inn, Butler spent a day and a half with Oscar Tomerlin, president of the corporation which operates the hotel, and his brother, C. P. Tomerlin. He told them of the advantages of Redwood City's climate, how the "good, rich earth" would grow anything that will survive 20 degrees above zero weather; and the need for a central meeting place for various community groups.

The Tomerlin brothers agreed to come to Redwood City soon to look over the situation, and offer a post-war plan for possible construction here of a center such as Butler described. If their offer were accepted, C. P. Tomerlin, the younger brother, would establish his residence here and become part of the community life. The Bakersfield men are convinced, from their experience, that the personal element enters largely into such an undertaking, Butler says.

Other interests have considered the possibilities of a hotel here, Butler stated, but he hopes to do something that will bring our own people. It would provide an ideal spot for city folks to relax, for the parents of Stanford students to visit their children; for the visitors to the Dibble General Hospital; for the tired traveler from Los Angeles to stop and bask in the sun. "Imagine not having your bathroom and kitchen regimented over summer week ends when for perhaps $3.50 you could send your guests to the Inn and spend your time with them there—without having so much as an ash tray to empty when you got home after seeing your visitors off."

Approximately $250,000 would finance such an undertaking, Butler believes. The Tomerlins, one a contractor, the other a teacher, started the Bakersfield Inn 15 years ago, starting with about 30 rooms and an investment of $60,000. They started during the depression and built the business up until they now have a total valuation of $950,000. Hard hit by gas rationing, they overcame that obstacle by going after two types of patronage—commercial and the army.

"We want suggestions," Butler declared, "so that in the next few weeks we may collect all the ideas available and present them to potential builders as the desire of the community. So send 'em in!"
